Sub: Requesting permission to start Student Chapter of Indian Geotechnical Society as-Reg.

The Indian National Society of Soil Mechanics and Foundation Engineering was established in the year 1948, soon after the second international conference on Soil Mechanics and Foundation Engineering held at Rotterdam. In December 1970, the name "Indian Geotechnical Society (IGS)" was adopted.

The Indian Geotechnical Society (IGS) aims at promoting co-operation amongst engineers and scientists for advancement and dissemination of knowledge in the fields of Soil Mechanics, Foundation Engineering, Soil Dynamics, Engineering Geology, Rock Mechanics, Snow and Ice Mechanics and allied fields and their practical applications. It provides a common forum for academicians, research workers, designers, construction engineers, equipment manufacturers and others interested in geotechnical activity.

At present almost 40 local chapters are established all over India under IGS and Guntur chapter is one the leading local chapter of IGS. Now a step forward, IGS is promoting to start student chapters in educational institutes to motivate students to give exposure to careers and opportunities in the field of geotechnical engineering and also develop leadership skills among students.

Student chapters provide an opportunity for students of 2nd, 3rd and 4th year civil engineering in this regard. Student members can join and form a student chapter by paying a nominal amount of Rs.250 towards annual membership to the local chapter. This amount is used as a corpus fund to organize technical events.

If we want to start a student chapter, the following activities are to be conducted by student members.

- Host lectures by respected engineers in their area. The peer group shall organize technical events in the institute with the help of faculty mentors for one year. Students shall participate as volunteers and student delegates in various technical events organized by local IGS chapter. Student members will be given participation certificates/awards by local IGS chapter.
- Learn how to conduct meetings and make presentations to clients. Have seminars on how to prepare biographical statements for job interview. Develop oral and written communication skills by preparing presentations/articles for Magazines/Newsletter.

On completion of one year of successful operation under effective guidance of IGS members/chapter a formal application shall be submitted along with the details of all the events organized in one year. The application for the student chapter shall be formally endorsed by the head of institute and IGS local chapter to establish an IGS student chapter and attain the official vote of the committee on student activities of IGS National Executive committee. Once the chapter is officially recognized, it will be listed in the IGS homepage.

On behalf of Department of Civil Engineering, I request you to permit me to start a Student Chapter of Indian Geotechnical Society under Guntur local chapter.

Thanking you.

Yours faithfully

Guidelines for the formation of student chapters of IGS

Need for formation of student chapters

The scope of Geotechnical Engineering expanded significantly in the last 30 years whereas the coverage of geotechnical engineering in the curriculum is limited to two/three subjects and a maximum of two electives in some institutions and colleges. The syllabus is restricted and as a result, many students are not exposed to the wide coverage of current trends and exciting professional/teaching/research opportunities in geotechnical engineering. There is a need to motivate students to give exposure to careers and opportunities in this area and also develop leadership skills among students which will help them in their career. Student chapters provide an opportunity for Bachelor Degree students of 2nd, 3rd and 4th year in Civil Engineering and Master's Degree students of Geotechnical Engineering program. Activities such as seminars/workshops/lectures conducted by student chapters under the guidance of faculty coordinators from the Institutions/colleges and the members of local chapters will significantly help the student community.

A student chapter may be established at any university/institute with the following qualifications:

- University/Institution has a Bachelors' in Civil Engineering/ Master's program in Geotechnical Engineering/Soil Mechanics or equivalent.
- University/Institution has one full-time faculty member who is IGS Fellow/ Member/Associate Member and who agrees to serve as a faculty advisor.
- The chapter will have a minimum membership of 12 students and if the college has Master's program in Geotechnical Engineering or equivalent of Civil Engineering or related engineering or technology, these students can also join in the chapter and advice and motivate the young members from undergraduate program.

When to submit an application for Student Chapter?

Stage – I

1. The student group shall approach IGS member(s) of the institute with a proposal and obtain his/their consent to mentor them;
2. Obtain endorsement of the proposal by the Head of Civil Engineering department and the endorsement of the proposal by the IGS local chapter in whose jurisdiction the institute is located;
3. Student members may join and form a student chapter by paying a nominal amount of INR 250 towards annual membership to the student chapter. These funds shall be maintained by them for use as a corpus to organize technical events. The college can also support the student chapter financially. The leadership committee formed within the students will organize technical events such as guest lectures/seminars/workshops/field visits etc. for the students to undertake and learn from.

The following officers are to be appointed with the help of IGS member (faculty):

- A student chapter President
- A student chapter Vice-president
- A student chapter secretary
- A student chapter treasurer

These officers need to be nominated/elected from the group members. Attached is a description of the Student officer functions. The activities that Student Chapter can do are as follows:

- Creation and maintenance of homepage of student chapter
 - Host lectures of engineers/professionals in civil/geotechnical engineering
 - Invite professional organizations for lectures and also explore possibilities for internships
 - Use online materials from ISSMGE/IGS and other related sources for discussion/presentation/knowledge enhancement
 - Organise debates/lectures/quiz programs among students
 - Participation in programs such as Swatch Bharath/Save planet etc.
 - Develop oral and written communication skills by preparing presentations/ articles for Magazines/Newsletter
 - Organise/participate in annual programs such as GEOFEST along with student chapters of other colleges
4. The leadership committee shall organize technical events in the institute with the help of faculty mentor(s) for one year by using the corpus fund/college support, which shall be managed by the faculty mentor and the Student Chapter leadership;
 5. Shall participate as volunteers and student delegates in various technical events organised by the local IGS chapter ;
 6. Completion of one year of successful operation under the effective guidance of the IGS members/chapter in whose jurisdiction the institution is located;
 7. The database of students will be maintained by IGS local chapter and student members will be given Certificates of participation/awards by the local chapter of IGS.

Stage – II

1. On Completion of one year of successful operation under the effective guidance of the IGS members/chapter a formal application shall be submitted along with the details of all the events organised in one year;
2. The application for the student chapter shall be formally endorsed by the head of the institution and IGS local chapter to establish an IGS Student Chapter and attain the official recognition of the Committee on Student Activities of IGS National Executive Committee.
3. Once the Chapter is officially recognized, it will be listed in the IGS homepage and the chapter is expected to continue its activities and promote geotechnical engineering.
4. The student chapter needs to submit annual progress report to maintain the student chapter status;
5. A student chapter will lose its status and become dormant, if the annual reports are not submitted.

Benefits for students

1. Contributes to developing leadership skills and public relationship skills
2. Creates interest in the subject, motivation and passion in engineering professional work
3. Creates opportunities for internships and jobs
4. Improves chances of admission in Masters program abroad and the work done as student member can be indicated in the Statement of Purpose (SoP)

Clarifications if any can be obtained from IGS office by email (admin@igs.org.in).

About The National Building Code

The National building Code of India (NBC), a comprehensive building Code, is a national instrument providing guidelines for regulating the building construction activities across the country. The Code was first published in 1970 at the instance of the then Planning Commissions and was subsequently revised in 1983 and 2005. The Code has now been revised again as NBC 2016 and formally released on 15th March 2017.

About the Seminar

Civil Engineering practice is driven by Indian Standards that are developed based on considerable expertise and experience in design and practical aspects. Innovations often also have a place in practice as these lead to unique and interesting solutions which may be replicated at different places and are supplementary to standards. Practice of Geotechnical engineering is no exception and there is a need to examine the contribution towards continual improvement of practice. This Seminar is intended towards this purpose and experts in different areas of geotechnical engineering will give lectures for dissemination of provisions of NBC 2016 and Indian Standards and also to obtain feedback for standardization in this area. The topics include soil investigations, foundation design, dams, expansive soils, retaining walls, seismic provisions etc.

Who should Attend

This seminar is open to practicing engineers from government and private organizations, academicians, contractors, consultants, third and fourth year under graduate students and post-

The department has well experienced and committed teaching staff and highly skilled and motivated technical staff to provide quality education. Civil Engineering department is accredited and awarded 'A' grade for three consecutive times. The department has well established and state-of- the-art laboratories to cater to the needs of the students.

About IGS-Guntur Chapter

Inaugurated in the year 2003, IGS Guntur Chapter has been one of the most vibrant chapters of the national professional body. The chapter, which has over 700 members, has organized several conferences, seminars and work-shops, the most significant being IGC-2009.

About Indian Concrete Institute (ICI)

Indian Concrete Institute is one of the leading professional bodies in India, catering to the professional needs of individuals and organizations involved in Concrete. Being a non-profit Organization, it is dedicated to the cause of disseminating knowledge on concrete, to promote Concrete Technology and Construction and to address the Research Needs of Concrete. ICI embraces budding civil engineers through ICI Students Chapters. The very objective of these students' chapters is to bridge the gap between their theoretical knowledge and what is being practiced in the field. Their involvement in ICI activities help them shape themselves to face the challenges in the field, when they come out of the Institutions and enhance their Employability Quotient.

About the Workshop

Sustainability in wide sense is the ability to preserve a certain process or entity over a long period without affecting ecology and biodiversity, which leads to constructive production and environmental balance. One of the reasons for the recent infrastructure development across the country is the technological betterment of concrete production. The prime aim of a concrete technologist is to make the concrete strong and durable, like stone, with minimum effort. During the recent course of time, many trials of incorporating sustainable materials in the concrete mix are successful in order to achieve the above aim in a close reach. Flowable concrete made easier the casting of different shapes like flowers, leaves, textures, curves in high rise structures with excellent surface finish.

Various chemical admixtures are invented to produce special concretes and highly viscous concrete mixes. While acknowledging the present trends in sustainability in concrete production, scope for further improvements like, controlling loss of slump/flowability for allowing delay in casting, delay in setting at higher doses of chemical admixtures, compatibility of chemical admixtures with cement, economy in production of flowable concrete is noteworthy. This workshop will provide a platform for academicians, engineers, builders and students to discuss the latest technological advances in concrete world.

Who should Attend

This seminar is open to practicing engineers from government and private organizations, academicians, contractors, consultants, graduate and post-graduate students of Civil Engineering.
